NEGRO, PLACED IN PENITENTIARY FOR SAFE KEEPING, IS MOBBED

BLACK BRUTE HAD COMMITTED
ASSAULT ON WHITE WOMAN

Convicts Rushed the Guard, Captured the Negro and Hanged Him in Jail Yard

Rawlins, Wyo., Oct. 2.—The untold story of happened here today, when the convicts in the state penitentiary rushed the guards; some held them, while the remainder of the convicts overpowered Frank Wigfoll, a negro who had been placed in the penitentiary for safe keeping and lynched him in the yard of the jail.

Wigfoll, the negro who was lynched by the convicts, was charged with assaulting Mrs. Esther Higgins, aged seventy-eight.

The officers who had the negro rapist in charge, being hotly pursued by a mob, placed the prisoner in the state penitentiary for safe keeping. The convicts, soon learning of the crime, decided to aid the outside mob.

It is the one instance of the kind in the history of this country.

INCENSED OVER PARK OFFICER'S ACTS

Much complaint is heard over the actions of Policeman Rose, at Mineral Wells park. The park board esteem Rose a valuable man, but in the pursuit of his duties he oversteps all reasonable bounds. Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Conrad, wife of Dr. Conrad, the colored physician, while returning from the circus, stopped at a well to get a drink. She carried her own drinking cup. Mrs. Conrad says Officer Rose stepped up, grabbed her roughly by the arm and told her to move on. Mrs. Armstrong reports a like occurrence. The better class of colored citizens are justly incensed over these actions and a body of them called on Mayor Nisley this morning with their complaints. The mayor told the complainants that Rose would be called on the carpet and reprimanded. Mr. Garrett said: "The colored people have their own park and they stick to it. They have no desire to mix up with the white people at Mineral Wells park and rarely does one see a colored person there, except on an errand. There surely can be no harm in a colored woman with her own cup taking a drink of water. The colored people have just cause for complaint and actions of this kind lead to bad feeling. If Policeman Rose cannot use judgment he should be retired instantly."

MADE GOAT OUT OF OKLAHOMA CITY MAN

Muskogee, Okla., Oct. 2.—Members of the grand lodge of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs took a half day off on the second day of their annual convention and visited the L. O. O. F. orphan's home at Checotah. A trainload of seven crammed coaches comprised the party.

End and Oklahoma City are making a hard fight to land the next convention of the grand lodge. One Oklahoma City booster advertised Enid without knowing it all day Tuesday. While he was passing out badges asking delegates to vote for Oklahoma City an Enid booster pinned a badge on the rival's coat tail. It was several hours afterward when the Oklahoma City man learned the cause of the laughter at his expense. A reception to all visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs by local members of the orders took place Tuesday night at the Hotel Severs. The important business of the session will be transacted Wednesday.

STAND BY YOUR HOME INDUSTRIES

IF YOU ARE LOYAL TO
GUTHRIE BUY GUTHRIE
MADE GOODS

Abraham Lincoln, wisest of our presidents, was credited with saying: "If we buy goods in England, that country will have the money and we will have the goods. But if we buy our goods at home, we will have the goods and the money, too."

This great truth applies to local as well as to national conditions. If we buy our goods in Chicago, we have the goods and Chicago has the money, which may never come back to us.

But if we buy our goods in the home town, we have both the goods and the money. A considerable portion of that money remains in circulation in the home town, paying for taxes, charities, rentals, wages, farm products, building operations, and so on.

The most prosperous community is that having in circulation the greatest amount of money per capita. The way to maintain that circulation is to promote the patronage of home stores and home industries in the highest degree possible.

Buy Guthrie made goods and there by help your home town to grow.

ARRESTED, CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Walter Mathews, colored, was arrested last night by the police charged with assault on Ralph Wagoner, Frank Shannon and John Johnson three white boys who come in from the country to attend the circus. The assault was made about 7 o'clock last night on Second street. The boys, it is said, were drinking pretty freely. Young Wagoner received the hardest drubbing of the three and for a while it was thought his skull had been fractured, caused by striking his head against the pavement. He was unconscious for four hours, but it all right this morning.

Mathews was placed under a $500 bond for appearance in police court tonight.

ARMY OFFICERS ARRESTED

SHERIFF ALSO TAKES IN MEXICAN CONSUL AND A DETECTIVE

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 2.—As a result of a raid on a local hotel Monday by American and Mexican secret service men, assisted by a squad of negro troopers of the Ninth United States cavalry, Manuel Cuesta, Mexican consul to Douglas, Powell Roberts, chief of the Mexican government secret service here, and four officers of the United States army, were arrested late today. The arrests were made by county authorities led by Sheriff Harry Wheeler, who came here from the county seat for the purpose of investigating charges made by D. J. Genardini, proprietor of the Hotel Mexico. There is general excitement among Americans and Mexicans here as a result of the raid and the subsequent arrests.

A feud between military and civil authorities began with the request for the arrest some days ago of Joaquin Esquer, a supposed rebel leader. The county officials refused to make the arrest. On Monday the secret service agents, accompanied by a squad of negro soldiers went to Hotel Mexico, where it was reported Esquer was living.

Despite the protests of the proprietor of the house, it is alleged that the Mexican secret agents searched the hotel. Esquer was not found. Genardini, the landlord, charges he was assaulted by the negro troopers. Hearing of the case, Sheriff Wheeler rushed here from Tombstone and went into consultation today with attorneys and Justice Ben Rice, who issued the warrants. There has been ill feeling owing to the presence of the negro troops here since some disorders shortly after the regiment's arrival a few weeks ago.

SUGGS PUT ON GRILL BY OFFICIALS

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS SAY
HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER
WOULD ABOLISH OFFICES

Special to Daily Leader.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 2.—The storm of protest from township officers against the movement to abolish their offices and against the present county assessor law broke loose at a meeting of the State Township Officers' association in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon, when resolutions characterizing the movement as the work of "political pirates" and providing for a concerted fight against its successful conclusion were unanimously passed.

State Highway Commissioner Sidney Suggs, who, it is claimed, is hostile toward the system of township officers, and who it is said is responsible for statements emanating from his department to the effect that funds appropriated for road building were being used to pay township officers' salaries, while road building was neglected, was also assailed in the resolution as being "incompetent," "dishonest" and "a falsifier."

The resolution charged Col. Suggs, in public speeches and in statements issued to the press, had charged that the township officers were incompetent, dishonest and did nothing but draw their salaries, and these statements were branded in the resolution as "false" and issued by Col. Suggs with the "malicious intention of deceiving the public through dishonest methods." The resolution further charges that Col. Suggs has written every member of the legislature reiterating these charges and asking their support in opposing all legislation advocated by the township officers and that as a result of his antagonism a movement has been started to abolish township officers. "Such charges," the resolution states, "were made by law department for self preservation."

The association went on record as favoring the abolishment of the office of state highway commissioner and creating instead the office of state engineer. If this plan does not meet with the approval of the legislature the association suggests as an alternative that the duties of the highway commissioner be combined with those of the state geologist at the state engineering school. The resolutions state "that the association would support any plan that would preserve the office of township officers."

OYSTER SEASON IS HERE

COOLER WEATHER HAS ITS EFFECT ON LOCAL MARKET
—PUMPKINS IN DEMAND

Although the time when the festive Thanksgiving turkey will be in demand is still some weeks distant, the usual rumors concerning the prices of the bird are circulating over the state. A dispatch says turkeys are to be plenty and cheap this season, because of the great number of grasshoppers, which were plentiful in this section of the state this summer.

The market keeps pace with the weather, as well as the thermometer. This week fresh oysters, cranberries, pumpkins and buckwheat have been in demand. Pumpkins cannot yet be supplied. Oysters and cranberries were in evidence last week.

Articles on the list of vegetables and relishes this week are celery, lettuce, cauliflower, beets, carrots, tomatoes, squashes, cabbage, sweet and Irish potatoes.

The list of fruits include grapes, peaches, plums, quinces, pears and apples.

The large white Tokay grapes from California are now offered along with the basket grapes from Michigan. Some of the pears are shipped in, but not a few fine home grown pears are being supplied to the grocers by home growers. Jonathan apples are shipped from Missouri.

Last week the wholesale price of lemons advanced more than $3 on the box and the retail price from 30 to 35 cents per dozen.

SEVERAL ARE FINED FOR BEING BOOZY

The usual after-the-show drunks were taken into camp by the police last night. Four were arrested on charge of being drunk on the street.

J. Y. Bush took on too much "red lemonade" and it went to his head. Late in the evening his feet failed to truck and he was found "sleeping it off" in the street. He paid $10 to the city this morning.

Chas. Rafies, one of the circus attaches also took on too much of the Guthrie joywater and fell by the wayside. He put up $10 cash bond for appearance, but failed to appear.

George Bates and Frank Foster were also found on the streets with about "three sheets in the wind." They paid the usual toll, $10 and costs.

TREASURE CHEST IS FOUND

IRON BOX CONTAINING
$75,000 IN GOLD AND
SILVER FOUND

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 2.—Seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of buried treasure was unearthed by a Mexican bander of Encarnada, Sonora, from a mountain ridge in Benito county last week, according to a story told today by William Rogers, who says he acted as the Mexican's guide.

Rogers says his employer carried a map true in every detail to the topography of the section. Two Mexican laborers accompanied the bander and dug out the treasure chest. It was discovered eight feet under ground at the foot of a huge oak tree. The treasure consisted of $10,000 in silver bullion and $65,000 in gold ingots.

It is believed the money was buried by a Mexican outlaw half a century ago.

SAYS WIFE AND HIMSELF AGREED

New Yorker in Alienation Suit
Against Texas Ranch Owner Advances Unusual Argument

New York, Oct. 2.—The marriage relation as it is interpreted by the higher metaphysicians of Christian Science and how this interpretation directly affected the home life of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Charters, teachers and healers in the faith, were matters which were aired before a fashionably dressed court room in the beginning of Charles Charters' alienation suit against Thomas L. Temple, the millionaire Texas ranch owner, in the supreme court in Jersey City today.

It was under cross-examination by Temple's attorney that the healer, whose name has recently been dropped from the authorized list of Christian Science practitioners, told of his wife's sublime conception of the marriage relation.

He said that three years after their marriage they journeyed together on a pilgrimage to Boston, and that after their worship in the mother church there, it was Mrs. Charters' suggestion that thenceforward they substitute the relationship of brother and sister for that of man and wife.

"She made the suggestion in accordance with her religious ideals and spiritual beliefs," Charters declared, "and I agreed upon it, as I always agreed to anything my wife wished."

It was shortly after this compact had been entered into that Temple came up from Texas to be taught Christian Science, according to the plaintiff's testimony, and his wife undertook to give him instruction. Temple stayed three or four months in their home in Palisade, and shortly after his departure Mrs. Charters went to visit him and his children in Texarkana, Texas.

"After her return from Texas I noticed that her love for me was dead," Charters declared dramatically. "I was first reader and she was second reader of the Second Church of Christ, Scientist, in New York City, then, yet though we stood on the platform together at service she would not speak to me. On Dec. 22, 1910, she ordered me to leave the house in Palisade."

$2,500 To Protect Wife
Francis Scott, who, with William D. Edwards, represented the defendant, declared that Temple had given Charters $2,500 to protect the name of Mrs. Charters, even though she was innocent of the charges made against her by her husband. On the receipt of this money Charters had agreed not to prosecute the present suit, the lawyer continued.

"This man Charters falls in love with every petticoat he sees," the lawyer declared. "He makes love to every pretty girl that comes to him, as a patient."

The defendant was called to the stand by the plaintiff's lawyers as the first witness. Charters' lawyers asked him if it were true, as alleged in Charters' complaint, that he had spent a night in January of last year in Mrs. Charters' home in Palisade, N. J.

"It is true," the big cattleman answered deliberately. "I spent several nights in her home, but on each occasion Mrs. Charters' father, General Young, was in the house and one, two or three of my children were also there."

"Did you ever give Mrs. Charters a gift of $6,000?" he was then asked. "Yes, I did. She had been training my children in Christian Science, and, besides, she needed it to help her out in her trouble with her husband."
